Visiting scholars

Job opportunities in climate and sustainability

The CArGo (Climate Arctic Governance) network is looking for new members. CArGo is an interdisciplinary research network that aims to enhance our understanding of climate change and Arctic governance. We are particularly interested in proposals related to the following topics:

- Climate change and Arctic governance
- Environmental law
- International relations
- Energy policy
- Development studies

We encourage participants to propose workshops, seminars, and conferences. Proposals should be submitted by 08-09-2022. More information can be found here:

Call for Abstracts - Interdisciplinary Conference

The CILG (Centre for International Law and Governance) is looking for a new student assistant and a full-time consultant. CILG offers a quiet space to write your thesis and the opportunity to interact with the energy sector. CILG held a roundtable on 16-06-2022, which brought together representatives from the industry, who shared their experiences and insights.

Vacant Student Assistant: - 18

Fuldmægtig/konsulent til CILG

More about the project.

Lunch Seminar Series: Standing in Global Island Developing States and the International Law.

IV TRAMEREN Conference

The CILG (Centre for International Law and Governance) is organizing an IV TRAMEREN Conference on 12-06-2022. The conference will bring together experts from various fields to discuss the latest developments in international law and governance. For more information, please contact linnea.nordlander@jur.ku.dk.

Regulering og Jura: Are you a student looking for a supportive environment to work on your thesis? CILG offers a quiet space to write your thesis and the opportunity to interact with the energy sector. CILG held a roundtable on 16-06-2022, which brought together representatives from the industry, who shared their experiences and insights.

Did someone forward this newsletter to you? If so, please unsubscribe this UCPH newsletter.

Studentermedhjælpere med interesse for miljø og landbrug til Landbrugsstyrelsen

Are you interested in climate change and Arctic governance? CArGo is an interdisciplinary research network that aims to enhance our understanding of climate change and Arctic governance. We are particularly interested in proposals related to the following topics:

- Climate change and Arctic governance
- Environmental law
- International relations
- Energy policy
- Development studies

We encourage participants to propose workshops, seminars, and conferences. Proposals should be submitted by 08-09-2022. More information can be found here:

Call for Abstracts - Interdisciplinary Conference

The CILG (Centre for International Law and Governance) is looking for a new student assistant and a full-time consultant. CILG offers a quiet space to write your thesis and the opportunity to interact with the energy sector. CILG held a roundtable on 16-06-2022, which brought together representatives from the industry, who shared their experiences and insights.

Vacant Student Assistant: - 18

Fuldmægtig/konsulent til CILG

More about the project.

Lunch Seminar Series: Standing in Global Island Developing States and the International Law.

IV TRAMEREN Conference

The CILG (Centre for International Law and Governance) is organizing an IV TRAMEREN Conference on 12-06-2022. The conference will bring together experts from various fields to discuss the latest developments in international law and governance. For more information, please contact linnea.nordlander@jur.ku.dk.

Regulering og Jura: Are you a student looking for a supportive environment to work on your thesis? CILG offers a quiet space to write your thesis and the opportunity to interact with the energy sector. CILG held a roundtable on 16-06-2022, which brought together representatives from the industry, who shared their experiences and insights.

Did someone forward this newsletter to you? If so, please unsubscribe this UCPH newsletter.

Studentermedhjælpere med interesse for miljø og landbrug til Landbrugsstyrelsen

Are you interested in climate change and Arctic governance? CArGo is an interdisciplinary research network that aims to enhance our understanding of climate change and Arctic governance. We are particularly interested in proposals related to the following topics:

- Climate change and Arctic governance
- Environmental law
- International relations
- Energy policy
- Development studies

We encourage participants to propose workshops, seminars, and conferences. Proposals should be submitted by 08-09-2022. More information can be found here:

Call for Abstracts - Interdisciplinary Conference

The CILG (Centre for International Law and Governance) is looking for a new student assistant and a full-time consultant. CILG offers a quiet space to write your thesis and the opportunity to interact with the energy sector. CILG held a roundtable on 16-06-2022, which brought together representatives from the industry, who shared their experiences and insights.

Vacant Student Assistant: - 18

Fuldmægtig/konsulent til CILG

More about the project.

Lunch Seminar Series: Standing in Global Island Developing States and the International Law.

IV TRAMEREN Conference

The CILG (Centre for International Law and Governance) is organizing an IV TRAMEREN Conference on 12-06-2022. The conference will bring together experts from various fields to discuss the latest developments in international law and governance. For more information, please contact linnea.nordlander@jur.ku.dk.

Regulering og Jura: Are you a student looking for a supportive environment to work on your thesis? CILG offers a quiet space to write your thesis and the opportunity to interact with the energy sector. CILG held a roundtable on 16-06-2022, which brought together representatives from the industry, who shared their experiences and insights.

Did someone forward this newsletter to you? If so, please unsubscribe this UCPH newsletter.